Attention Ladies!

On November 27th, at 2:00 PM, right here in the livingroom at Bickford Senior Living we will be hosting Bonworth and having a Trunk Show.

Bon Worth Clothing and Design will be coming to us from their Tuscola, IL store and having residents model their clothes on the catwalk. Everything will be $20.00 or less. Models will get an additional discount.

If you would like to be a model, call the office here and leave your name and what size clothes you would like to model with Angela.

If you would like to come in and shop, and support our residents and their families that are modeling, we would love to have you for that as well!

We had a great turn out the last time they were here, we would love to see you all again donning some winter apparel.
