The Old Rocking Chair
Sitting alone in an old rocking chair, an aged old mother with silver-gray hair. Her hands are all withered and callous and old. Hard work and worry were the story they told. Bless her dear heart tho' she never complained, knowing life's sorrows, she would live it again. She seems so content as I see her there, rocking alone in an old rocking chair. It wouldn't take much to gladden her heart, a card or letter on somebody's part. She seems so neglected by those who should care, Rocking alone in an old rocking chair.

Welcome to Bickford of CP

From the Desk of the Life Enrichment Director

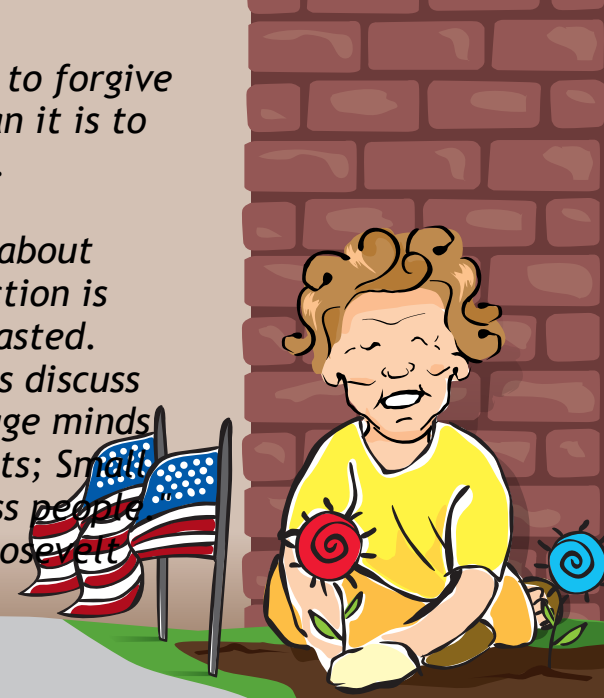

April showers (possibly snow lol!) brings May flowers, we sure have had plenty of rain. The flowers should be blooming and beautiful. I can hardly believe I'm beginning to plan the warm weather programs. Gosh, I am so ready for that. It's fun to go out on the outings when you we can enjoy the nice weather. Maybe now, I can get a group to join me in exploring the Crown Point and surrounding communities. As always, I try to create a calendar that fits the interests of all the residents. Check out the programs and keep us in mind. Life at Bickford can be fun and you can meet new friends.

Happy Mother's Day to all of the Ladies. Have fun on your special day.
Marnie

*It is easier to forgive and love than it is to harbor hate.
*Time spent speculating about another's action is time well wasted.
